Governor – the Iditarod is inquiring on whether you can congratulate the winner again this year. The unfortunate aspect is the time. They're now estimating that the race will finish between midnight – 2 a.m. tomorrow (Tues night/Weds morning). They would call you at whatever number we provide. Looks possible to be Mackey again.

Kris:

At this point, I am estimating a finishing time of midnight - 2 a.m. tomorrow (Tuesday night - Wednesday morning). As you know, the live television finish script (broadcast live on Channel 2 and streamed worldwide on iditarod.com) includes the Governor congratulating the race winner.

This will take place 33 minutes from the time that the winner crosses the finish line. Assuming that the Governor wishes to participate (we hope so, even at the odd hour!) we will need a phone number that we can call.

I can be reached at 907.232.8730.

I talked w/Denise. What she told Lyda's office was about a brief conversation at first pitch where Denise told you that while she wasn't thrilled about the money being cut she certainly understands. And that you expressed appreciation for the work that they do and that it may be revisited in the future. She acknowledged that there were no promises made.

It was a courtesy conversation in passing; not what Lyda's office is trying to suggest.

She called to let us know because she found Ginger's comments to be so contrary and wanted to go straight to the source. I reiterated the event activities...from the t-shirt to the pitch and the great time we had. We also talked about the picture in the press while you were in Iraq.

Unbelievable that she'd tell Denise that. Once I was reminded that the Miner's pr lady's name was Denise, of course I acknowledged being escorted by her to throw the pitch, and to receive the t-shirt that I then wore to Kuwait (it was on tv and the Miners said they were proud to see it).

Please tell Mark I appreciate his info, and that I do remember Denise.

Nope, never any promises made at all. As you said for the Valley, you only visited the Miners when you threw out the pitch. Aside from that there were no other visits or meetings pertaining to those specific Valley projects. Mark told me that according to Denise at the Miners, Ginger from Lyda's office called her to say that she was in a meeting with the Governor last week and that the Governor has no recollection of talking w/Denise or supporting the Miners. Mark told Denise that the Governor certainly remembers visiting and throwing out the first pitch and that she is supportive of the work they do but that does not translate to funding. Mark said Denise was more concerned about the Governor not supporting them as opposed to funding. Just before you're supportive of what someone is doing for their community; doesn't mean that it is the state's responsibility to provide financial support. I have a message into Denise to follow-up and find out more.

Harris just did a press conf where he repeated Lyda's disingenous comments from last week re: my "promise to NOT veto projects"... supposedly I traveled the state, visiting vetoed projects, and according to Lyda I "got educated and promised not to veto the projects if they got back in the (supplemental) budget". I totally disagree with Senate and House leaders repeating Lyda's claim.

When we asked, Lyda listed Valley Recycling project visit and committtment (yet I have not visited the center and did not know the gal Lyda said I promised); Mat-Su Miners baseball field (Kris was with me- I threw out the first pitch, did not "tour" anything and made no promises of no veto); and Lyda couldnt recall what other projects, but claims

there must be many.

Russ believed another project being touted as veto-proof, via my promise, came after touring the Anchorage port - again Kris was with me - no promise was made except to say I wanted to put it in a bond pkg so voters could confirm that project as a state priority.

Can you think of anything else that she and Harris could be misconstruing as my "visits and promises to NOT veto"... I know she's wrong but we must now spend valuable time proving her wrong. Thanks.

Subject: Wolves Calls and Emails

The Defenders of Wildlife has apparently sent out another letter asking its members to call and email your office(s), including the D.C. office.

In Juneau alone, we have received about 2,000 emails and about 70 calls. The source for both emails and calls is out of state - only 1 email was from an Alaska address.

The message being sent has a slightly different twist, along the lines of … we hear you might be tapped to be on the McCain ticket and if so we won't vote for you. But then goes on to include the messages previously sent: Alaska is allowing aerial hunting of wolves against voter mandates, the Legislature is corrupt and once again isn't listening to Alaskans who don't want aerial hunting, etc.

I'm confident that we will see these kinds of spikes in attention as this organization (and others) use Miller's legislation and message as a fund-raising rallying cry.

We will continue to work with F&G and the resources we have at hand to get out Alaska's message.

Budget expected to glide through

ON TO THE HOUSE: Supplemental measure adds up to $4.3 billion.

By ANNE SUTTON

The Associated Press

(03/08/08 03:11:28)

JUNEAU -- A $4.3 billion supplemental budget is expected to move quickly through the Legislature despite its prodigious bulk and unconventional makeup, according to House and Senate leaders.

The bill, scheduled for the House Finance Committee on Monday, covers more than unanticipated spending in the current fiscal year, which is what's typically found in a supplemental budget.

It left the Senate bearing a $3.6 billion savings plan, $180 million to cover three years of revenue sharing, $300 million in weatherization and energy efficiency rebates and $50 million in capital projects that were vetoed by Gov. Sarah Palin last year.

The last item has drawn sharp criticism from Palin, but finance committee co-chairman Rep. Kevin Meyer, R-Anchorage, said he doesn't expect that will delay the bill or jeopardize its other elements.

"The supplemental is moving fast," Meyer said. "(Palin) could choose to veto the capital items and everything else could still go forward."

Meyer said the House committee does plan to swap out some of the Senate projects that may not meet Palin's guidelines for education, safety and transportation infrastructure improvements.

Meyer said $300,000 for a Sitka ball field and $10,000 for a Fairbanks climbing wall probably would not survive House scrutiny. while a $10 million expansion of the Port of Anchorage and $1.4 million in Juneau airport safety improvements probably would.

The list also includes traffic improvements in Anchorage, community center renovations in rural villages, computer lab upgrades at schools, and water and sewer improvements.

House and Senate leaders have said they are in general agreement over other key elements of the bill, such as the savings plan, revenue sharing and weatherization grants.

That bodes well for the more conventional items awaiting critical funding, such as $18.5 million for senior benefits that lawmakers passed in special session last summer.

Lawmakers approved income-based monthly payments of $125 to $250 for about 10,000 low-income seniors. They did not appropriate the money for it, however, leaving that task for the regular session.

The state has made up the difference with money borrowed from the Adult Public Assistance Program. Now that program will be out of money by the end of the month, according to state officials.

Funding for senior benefits, labor contracts and inmate health care are just a few of the governor's supplemental requests for the fiscal year that ends June 30.

Meanwhile, the Senate Finance Committee will take up the House version of the state operating budget on Monday. Discussion of the capital budget is expected to begin later in the week.

We understand that you have been discussed as a possible choice for the Vice Presidency.

As people who support the democratic process and care about protecting our wildlife for future generations, we want you to know that we don't believe people in our states would vote for you for any office if they knew your record on these issues.

It is troubling that you are now working to deny more than 50,000 Alaskans a vote on aerial killing of wolves and bears with legislation now being considered in the Alaska legislature.

It is deeply concerning that last year you proposed using helicopters and a $150 bounty to spur wolf killing in specified management zones -- despite strong scientific opposition to the state's aerial hunting program and the lack of reliable information on how many wolves actually exist in these areas.

And it is baffling that you appointed your high school basketball coach -- a man with no relevant experience -- to the state's board of game, and have condoned a $400,000 state-funded propaganda campaign to convince Alaskans that wildlife biologists from around the world are wrong when they say that the state's shooting of wolves and bears from airplanes is scientifically unfounded.

We sincerely hope that you will recognize the importance of respecting the democratic process and protecting Alaska's wildlife in the future. But until then, you will not have the support of those of us who care about the democratic process and protecting our natural treasures for future generations.

Unbelievable that she'd tell Denise that. Once I was reminded that the Miner's pr lady's name was Denise, of course I acknowledged being escorted by her to throw the pitch, and to receive the t-shirt that I then wore to Kuwait (it was on tv and the Miners said they were proud to see it).

Please tell Mark I appreciate his info, and that I do remember Denise.

Nope, never any promises made at all. As you said for the Valley, you only visited the Miners when you threw out the pitch. Aside from that there were no other visits or meetings pertaining to those specific Valley projects. Mark told me that according to Denise at the Miners, Ginger from Lyda's office called her to say that she was in a meeting with the Governor last week and that the Governor has no recollection of talking w/Denise or supporting the Miners. Mark told Denise that the Governor certainly remembers visiting and throwing out the first pitch and that she is supportive of the work they do but that does not translate to funding. Mark said Denise was more concerned about the Governor not supporting them as opposed to funding. Just before you're supportive of what someone is doing for their community; doesn't mean that it is the state's responsibility to provide financial support. I have a message into Denise to follow-up and find out more.

Harris just did a press conf where he repeated Lyda's disingenous comments from last week re: my "promise to NOT veto projects"... supposedly I traveled the state, visiting vetoed projects, and according to Lyda I "got educated and promised not to veto the projects if they got back in the (supplemental) budget". I totally disagree with Senate and House leaders repeating Lyda's claim.

When we asked, Lyda listed Valley Recycling project visit and committment (yet I have not visited the center and did not know the gal Lyda said I promised); Mat-Su Miners baseball field (Kris was with me- I threw out the first pitch, did not "tour" anything and made no promises of no veto); and Lyda couldnt recall what other projects, but claims there must be many.

Russ believed another project being touted as veto-proof, via my promise, came after touring the Anchorage port - again Kris was with me - no promise was made except to say I wanted to put it in a bond pkg so voters could confirm that project as a state priority.

Can you think of anything else that she and Harris could be misconstruing as my "visits and promises to NOT veto"... I know she's wrong but we must now spend valuable time proving her wrong. Thanks.

Subject: RE: Lyda

First and most important, it's unheard of and absolutely unacceptable what Lyda has done to the supplemental budget--I think Con Bunde was the most candid when he said it was a bastardization of the process. Lyda touts the importance of tradition and following protocol--where is tradition and protocol now? I think this can be capitalized on.

Attached is Lyda's newsletter w/ a list of Valley projects Lyda says you vetoed. Perhaps these are the groups she's speaking of re: you making promises to restore funding.

AK State Fair, Palmer Arts Council, Alaska Family Services, Palmer water and sewer (fyi, Combs in town this week to meet w/ Tibbles so that could end up being the next "promise" you make), Mat-Su prison, etc.

Hew newsletter also says, "The Valley's priorities are Lyda's priorities." One of her "priorities" is to construct "responsible fiscal policy and budgets," yet the legislative body she leads and manages has hijacked the supplemental budget--this doesn't sound like the way to develop responsible fiscal policy to me!

Another of Lyda's "priorities" are "safe communities and increased resources for law enforcement," yet Senate DPS subcommittee cut more than $2 million and cut ALL new DPS positions. If it passes the Senate would be proposing not to fund a single new Trooper position. This is operating budget of course, and not a capital project that was vetoed, but the point is the same--she says one thing to the media but her actions reflect another.

I have emails into other agency special assistants to get a list of specific, critical projects the subcommittees have removed under Lyda's watch.

Ms. Showalter,

I'm following up with my original request to Lt. Governor Parnell about his position on the current condition of the Dept. of Public Safety.

Our association watched as the VPSO program received a significant wage increase to assist with recruitment, retention, and better service to the citizens of Alaska.

I'm sure that Lt. Gov. Parnell is interested in seeing that same increase in service provided by Alaska's Finest and will insist that Gov. Palin and Comm. Krietzer see that it happens for Alaska Families.

I wait anxiously for his response and position on this matter.

God Bless,

THANK-YOU for standing up to the big oil companies. I'm not normally a republican, and I don't think I'll vote for any more in the near future. How ever I did vote for you because of what I believe I saw in your integrity. When I talk to people from my generation, we are sceptics towards big government. We want to see a true representative of the people and so many times are disappointed. I will pray for you and yours, to have the strength to continue with the fight here in Alaska, for the Alaskan people.

P.S. Should you choose a higher political standing don't settle for 2nd place, when you could in mine and others opinion, take FIRST. GOD Bless, great job!!!!!!!!!!!!!

MESSAGE:

Governor-

I really think you'll get a kick out of this story.

First some background:

My name is Kevin Scholla. I am a lifelong republican. I supported Mike Huckabee for president, so when Senator McCain became the presumptive nominee, my first choice for vice president was Huckabee. Then I started to think about other possibilities for running mates and you came to mind as my other top choice.

Just as I started to tell people about your qualifications and started to mention you to friends and family as a possible VP you made your big announcement that you are 7 months pregnant and due in May. I assume you may be too busy to run a national campaign now.

Here's the funny part....my wife and I are expecting our first child in May as well. We also didn't tell any friends right away for different reasons. We had trouble during our first try.

Just as we were figuring out how to tell people you made your announcement. So it hit me. A funny way to tell friends about our good news. Here is a copy of the email I sent out:

Now Huck has to be the running mate because it looks like my #2 choice will be busy!

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) - Gov. Sarah Palin and her husband are expecting their fifth child in May, she announced Wednesday.

Palin, 44, who just three months ago was modeling for the fashion magazine Vogue, doesn't look seven months pregnant.

In other related news, Kevin Scholla's republican wife is also due in May. This will be the couple's first child.

As you can imagine it made a lot of people laugh after they were over the initial shock!

My wife had been teasing me the last few months saying "how in the world can you keep the news from friends and co-workers?"

Well, now we know it isn't that hard for the husband of a 7-month pregnant woman to keep this quiet since a 7-month pregnant woman who happens to be the governor can do it too!!

Anyway best of luck to you and your family. I wish you well with lucky #5!

Any names yet?

Sincerely,

Kevin Scholla

A number of Idaho residents have expressed great interest in your running with McCain as the Vice-Presidential candidate. This would appeal to conservatives, women and a lot of other types that McCain currently has difficulty persuading that he's the man to vote for. I am a retired attorney and would gladly head up some sort of organization here in Idaho to set those wheels in motion. I know you're busy being the Governor but I, and a lot of other folks nationwide, really believe you could make the difference between a Republican and a Democratic White House this year. Please give it some thought.

Are we still on Track for the "as-needed" security detail plan, versus having the two in Anchorage without much to do during the session? (And vice-versa with Juneau security outside of session.)

Thank you Gary. I think we've got some solutions here, I appreciated Mr. Nizich presenting me with documents that show Security Service can be provided the First Family, not just the Gov, so we got that covered today to arm me against state employees (and school district employees, evidently) who've been complaining about any ride provided Willow, specifically.

Bigger issue is number of Security staff. My direction is to reduce even further, as we're reducng costs in other areas of state government too. I spoke with Mr. Nizich on this today and it sounds like steps can be in the works toward this end. An on-call security staffer in Anchorage, and one in Juneau, should really be able to provide the service that would be most helpful and cost efficient for the state.

I've asked Mr. Nizich to work on this, he'll contact you further.

Thanks again for your assurance that I am following law and proper proceedure with utilizing security. It was helpful to see Mr. Nizich's documents on this today.

Subject: Security

As the detail commander, I am not aware of any of my people complaining about their duties or responsibilities to you or the first family, if anything your requirements have been far below what we have provided in the past and I hope that wouldn't make anyone unhappy. Obviously, my concern and responsibility as the supervisor of this detail is for your safety and that of the first family and Lord help me if something were to happen to you or a member of your family under my watch.

To date, every function we have performed for you and past Governors has been legal, above board morally and ethically. I will not nor have I ever sanctioned anything that would be illegal or perceived as such. It is this details responsibility to ensure you and the first family's security and safety in all aspects. This certainly is a broad description but it does cover the "Safe" transportation of your children at your request. Every Governor in the past has utilized us at one time or another to provide "safe" transportation for their children or grand children and we have and will perform that function happily. I have also had this discussion with many of the other 49 details and they too provide security and safe transportation for the first family.

The level of security to you and your family is strictly your decision and I have always respected that. I would only ask, that on occasion, I have a closer dialog with you rather than e-mail. I believe you can convey your message to me easier and I can respond, I did however have no problem understanding your latest e-mail.

On a personal side, you're an extremely thoughtful person as it pertains to security staff, their hours and duties and I admire that human side.

Respectfully

Gary

Do we know if someone's keeping up with thank you letters and acknowlegements? I haven't seen any lists for, it seems like, months. Is there a better way for me to know what constituent relations work is being done - like acknowledgement of citizens excelling at something, citizens taking the time to write letters to the editor, etc? I'm still trying to clip newsworthy items, incl letters, to send to whomever has time to acknowledge tham - but I know I'm not keeping up and I never know if anyone's followed up with the citizen. In Anchorage I ask Tara and Colleen to help me with some of it, can the new gal in the Juneau Comm office also take this on? Pls task her with that if it helps me keep up with constituent work. Thanks

Also, with so many emails that we get re: citizens who are ill and their friends or families pass on the news, I hope they're not just getting that general reply re: "Due to the volume of mail we received, the gov can't respond to everyone..." I hope they're getting something more personal/thoughtful in reply. Is there any progress there?

Dear Governor Palin:

Congratulations on the future addition to the family. When you first took office I had applied and was being considered for a position with your administration, however the President soon thereafter appointed me as Senior Counselor to the General Counsel, USDA. I will always appreciate the time your office took to try to place me even though I was not an Alaska native. You are thought of very highly at USDA. I would like very much to see you offered the Vice President's spot on the Republican ticket.

Best Regards,

Job Serebrov

Got it- and she's going to pick up Willow, as Willow says she's sick. Thanks! (I told Willow she has to clean her room then, and také care of the dog, if she comes home early.)

Subject: Fwd: Lee Iacocca's Words - Food for Thought

WHERE HAVE ALL THE LEADERS GONE?

Remember Le e Iacocca, the man who rescued Chrys ler Corporationfr om its death throes? He has written a new book, and here are some excerpts.

Lee Iacocca Says:

'Am I the only guy in this country who's fed up with what's happening? Where the hell is our outrage? We should be screaming bloody murder. We've got a gang of clueless bozos steering our ship of state right over a cliff, we've got corporate gangsters stealing us blind, and we can't even clean up after a hurricane much less build a hybrid car. But instead of getting mad, everyone sits around and nods their heads when the politicians say, 'Stay the course'

Stay the course? You've got to be kidding. This is America , not the damned 'Titanic'. I'll give you a sound bite: 'Throw all the bums out!'

You might think I'm getting senile, that I've gone off my rocker, and maybe I have. But someone has to speak up. I hardly recognize this country anymore.

The most famous business leaders are not the innovators but the guys in handcuffs. While we're fiddling in Iraq , the Middle East is burning and nobody seems to know what to do. And the press is waving 'pom-poms' instead of asking hard questions. That's not the promise of the ' America ' my parents and yours traveled across the ocean for. I've had enough. How about you?

I'll go a step further. You

can't call yourself a patriot if you're not outraged. This is a fight I'm ready and willing to have.

The Biggest 'C' is Crisis !

Leaders are made, not born. Leadership is forged in times of crisis It's easy to sit there with your feet up on the desk and talk theory. Or send someone else's kids off to war when you've never seen a battlefield yourself. It's another thing to lead when your world comes tumbling down.

*On September 11, 2001, we needed a strong leader more than any other time in our history.
We needed a steady hand to guide us out of the ashes. A Hell of a Mess*

So here's where we stand. We're immersed in a bloody war with no plan for winning and no plan for leaving. We're running the biggest deficit in the history of the country. We're losing the manufacturing edge to Asia , while our once-great companies are getting slaughtered by health care costs. Gas prices are skyrocketing, and nobody in power has a coherent energy policy. Our schools are in trouble. Our borders are like sieves. The middle class is being squeezed every which way These are times that cry out for leadership.

But when you look around, you've got to ask: 'Where have all the leaders gone?' Where are the curious, creative communicators? W here are the people of character, courage, conviction, omnipotence, and common sense? I may be a sucker for alliteration, but I think you get the point.

Name me a leader who has a better idea for homeland security than making us take off our shoes in airports and throw away our shampoo? We've spent billions of dollars building a huge new bureaucracy, and all we know how to do is react to things that have already happened.

Name me one leader who emerged from the crisis of Hurricane Katrina. Congress has yet to spend a single day evaluating the response to the hurricane, or demanding accountability for the decisions that were made in the crucial hours after the storm.

Everyone's hunkering down, fingers crossed, hoping it doesn't happen again. Now, that's just crazy. Storms happen. Deal with it. Make a plan. Figure out what you're g oing to do the next time.

Name me an industry leader who is thinking creatively about how we can restore our competitive edge in manufacturing. Who would have believed that there could ever be a time when 'The Big Three' referred to Japanese car companies? How did this happen, and more important, what are we going to do about it?

Name me a government leader who can articulate a plan for paying down the debt, or solving the energy crisis, or managing the health care problem. The silence is deafening. But these are the crises that are eating away at our country and milking the middle class dry.

*I have news for the gang in Congress. We didn't elect you to sit on your asses and do nothing and remain silent while our democracy is being hijacked and our greatness is being replaced with mediocrity.
What is everybody so afraid of?
That some bonehead on Fox
News will call them a name?
Give me a break. Why don't you guys*

show some spine for a change?

Had Enough?

Hey, I'm not trying to be the voice of gloom and doom here. I'm trying to light a fire. I'm speaking out because I have hope I believe in America . In my lifetime I've had the privilege of living through some of America 's greatest moments. I've also experienced some of our worst crises: the 'Great Depression', '

World War II', the 'Korean War', the 'Kennedy Assassination', the 'Vietnam War', the 1970s oil crisis, and the struggles of recent years culminating with 9/11.

If I've learned one thing, it's this: 'You don't get anywhere by standing on the sidelines waiting for somebody else to take action. Whether it's building a better car or building a better future for our children, we all have a role to play. That's the challenge I'm raising in this book. It's a call to 'Action' for people who, like me, believe in America It's not too late, but it's getting pretty close. So let's shake off the crap and go to work. Let's tell 'em all we've had 'enough.'
